Hon. Garry W. Hazelton has been reappointed United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

General Grant thinks Washington the prettiest city in the world. That satisfies us that he has never seen Oshkosh.

Garcelon should spell his name with an "F." There would then be a striking similarity between the name and the man.

Dr. Garcelon thinks he has earned a place on the tail of Tilden's ticket. He thinks right about it. The two frauds should go together.

Says a Maine paper—"Alonso Garcelon was a stranger, and we took him in. Then he took us in. The difference lies in the motives—we were honest about it."

Le Duc wants to beat China out of its tea crops, and to this end desires the Government to run a tea farm down South.
Le Duc will be abolished before the present Congress closes.

There were three Fusionists counted in by Garcelon, who did not have the check to accept stolen seals, and therefore would not participate in the opening programme of the Maine Legislature. But even three righteous Democrats in Maine will hardly save the party from destruction.

The Railway Age has made a careful calculation of the expense of a trip around the world, on a basis of 180 days. For first class accommodations the expense is given at $849, and for second class $603. In looking over the items as given by the Railway Age, a great many will be found which can be curtailed, providing a person who wants to make the trip desires to practice economy.

While General Grant was in office he appointed more Judges of the United States Court than any President who preceded him. The total number was thirty-five, and consisted of four Supreme Judges, nine Circuit, twenty-three District, and two of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. It is said that the judiciary appointed by him has heard and determined more cases, and involving larger amounts, than did all the judiciary in the eighty years that preceded.

Notwithstanding the decision of the Supreme Court, the Fusionists of Maine have organized the Legislature, and to all appearances they propose to keep right on in their revolutionary course regardless of the highest tribunal in the State or the public will. This programme is peculiarly Democratic. It was conceived by Democratic brain and carried out in obedience to Democratic orders. Well, they have the Legislature, and what will they do with it?
They propose to re-elect Garcelon, Governor. They would like, if they dare, to elect the Presidential electors, and thus make Maine certain for the Democracy; and they propose making a United States Senator of that notorious demagogue and political outlaw—E. F. Pillsbury.

The Legislature being organized without the aid of Republicans, there seems to be no hope that any programme can be adjusted which will compel obedience to the popular will and which will secure justice for those who have been robbed of their seats in the Legislature. There are those who pretend to believe that the Fusionists dare not carry out their programme, but they seem to be doing it all the same, and taking the advice of Pillsbury, and moving under the command of Garcelon, the Fusionists will keep on regardless of the decision of Courts, the opinion of the people the question of right, or the ultimate consequences. The Democrats are welcome to all the glory there is in fraud and theft.
The next time the people vote in Maine, it will be overwhelmingly Republican that there will be no possible chance to do any counting out.

The election of General Garfield of Ohio, to the United States Senate, is another achievement for "clear grit," worth, and brains. He has been in Congress seventeen years being elected in 1862, and has served ever since. For so young a man—he is only forty-eight—he has had large public experience and has done the country a great deal of valuable service.
Garfield's life is well worth knowing, and it is one which would honor any man.
When he was old enough to work, he began as a day-laborer, and his first promotion was to a driver on the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal. He was eighteen years old before he attended school, and up to that time had done a great amount of hard work, beside enduring the inconvenience of being extremely poor. But Garfield had ambition, a strong frame, a good mind, and manly courage, and before he attained his majority he set out to do something for himself. He went to school, then college, became a teacher of modern languages. He served in the early part of the war, and was elected to Congress in 1862, a place he has held to this day. Garfield is a strong man, physically, morally, and mentally. He is one of the best types of an American, and is a public example of what an American boy can do when he tries. It has not been all luck with Garfield. He has worked his way by inches, and this can be said of him and it is the only true way to success—that in whatever position he has been placed, he never betrayed the trust reposed in him, and never flinched when duty called him to act. His promotion to an American Senator is credit to Ohio, and an honor to the country.

MUTINY.

MOBILE, Jan. 8.—A mutiny broke out on board the ship Pauline David to-day.
The crew killed the Captain, and have been put under arrest.

GIVES UP.

HAVANA, Jan. 8.—The insurgent Oom-ber has surrendered with sixteen officers, 30 men, 26 slaves, and arms and munitions.

IRON INTEREST.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 8.—There is a great revival in the iron trade owing principally to the American demand. Several contracts have been given for ten thousand tons.

FROM MAINE.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 8.—The House met at 10 o'clock this morning there being 77 percent. Representative Hale consumed an hour in moving corrections. The crowd has been ejected. The Senate is busy with routine business.

THE IRISH TROUBLE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—The Duke of Marlborough, the Lord Lieutenant, has been received with decided coolness at Killarney. There were no cheers or demonstrations. The Duke affected not to notice the slight. Several disturbances have occurred.

STATE OF MAINE.

Scenes in the Bogus Legislature Yesterday.

AUGUSTA, Maine, Jan. 7.—The day was looked forward to with much interest, not only in Maine, but all over the country, among men who believe that free government rests upon the will of the people, and whose only safety is in having that will respected, as declared in a free, open, and impartial election. Notwithstanding the sensational stories set on foot about fears of violence, strengthened by the foolish action of the Governor in ordering munitions of war to the State Capitol and filling it with an armed guard, everything has been as peaceful and orderly as it would be possible to conceive. The city has been full of strangers, intent on witnessing the event of the day.

The State House was literally thronged, the Representatives' chamber holding but a little of the number desiring admittance.
The proceedings were so ridiculously arbitrary and opposed to all established usage that the railings of the preceding order frequently called forth hearty and unrestrained bursts of contemptuous laughter.

The Hon. Eugene Hale ably led the Republicans, and won hearty and merited comments from opponents as well as friends for the brilliant, calm and courteous manner in which he disputed step by step every inch of ground. Finding the Fusionists were determined to organize in spite of right or rule, Mr. Hale moved an adjournment, which the presiding officer refused to put, he put himself and declared carried, and the Fusionists then proceeded to elect the Governor.

Mr. Hale was sworn in, in order to prevent any steps toward organization until admittance was given to those members elected improperly deprived of their seats. Against every vote passed Mr. Hale protested, and the ground that no quorum was voted, and it may be said that the presiding officer persistently refused to read a list of the sworn members to declare the number present.

Before the Republicans withdrew the yesterday and today were called on the question of sending for the Governor to administer the oath. The presiding officer refused to announce the result of the vote, but declared it carried.

Later in the session Professor Stephen J. Young, of Bowdoin College, a brilliant debater and fine parliamentarian, also was qualified in order to resist Mr. Hale.

The result of the day's work in the House was the completion of its organization and the refusal to admit the Representatives. from the five unrepresented cities whose memorials, together with the decision of the Supreme Court affirming the legality of their election, was referred by the Governor to the House for their action.

Affairs in the Senate attracted little attention, and they organized by the choice of Wm. D. Lawson, of Waldo county, as President, who will be acting Governor after midnight to-night until a successor to Governor Garcelon is chosen.

As matters stand to-night, neither party is exactly satisfied with the situation. The Fusionists think they made a mistake in not pushing matters through and electing Smith as Governor. They promise to-morrow to do this, that is to send the names of two or four highest candidates voted for to the Senate, which as constituted, would elect Smith.

A MOTLEY CROWD.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Greenback Convention met to-day in a small hall used generally for religious purposes. There were two hundred men and twenty women present. Denn's Kearney was the current figure. The social reformers will attempt to capture the Convention which will be confined to a declaration of principles. Chicago will probably be chosen as the location for the National Convention.

LET IT ALONE.

That Seems to be the Sentiment in Congress on the Financial Question.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The feeling in favor of letting the financial question alone seems to have gained strength during the recess. There is no doubt that the Price resolution would receive considerable support from Eastern members of both parties if it could be brought to a vote. It is safe to say that several Massachusetts Congressmen would favor it, as they have come back reporting that the business and manufacturing interests of their State are against any agitation of the financial situation. The General demand is to have Congress keep its hands off, and let the business revival which has begun continue without fear of anything being upset by unwisdom action at the Capitol.

Mr. Bayard said to-day that he believed there was a majority in the Senate in favor of the resolution to abolish the legal tender quality of the greenback. He thinks he has thirty-four votes, twenty-three of whom are Democrats and eleven Republicans.

SLY SAMMY.

The Shuffling Sage of Gramercy Dabbling Extensively in Stocks—How He Operates.

New York, Jan. 7.—Tilden keeps up his interest in the speculation on "Change as well as in that on Presidential possibilities.
He is unquestionably one of the keenest observers of the stock market, and takes a hand in whenever he sees a good chance, with almost invariably lucky results. Yesterday the Sage of Gramercy entered the office of one of the best known brokers in the city, shuffling along in his customary way, looking, if possible, more generally "gone to pieces" than ever, and the picture of anything but the shrewd, quick-minded man he is. He inquired the price of a certain stock in which he had invested, and was told it was 92. That was more than the old man wanted to pay, he begged and argued, for a large block he wanted, at least 91. But the broker, who is noted for his blunt, said the price was 92, and he didn't care whether or not Tilden ought to buy it at that. The conclusion was that Tilden took the block at 92, and showed his faith in the predictions of a rising market. If the price does come, Tilden will have a chance to get back the $100,000 which he paid the other day to compromise the railroad suits.

CLAIMING TOO MUCH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Much interest has been excited here among army men over the fact that General Grant has last made known, through the authorized statements of John Russell Young, that he was the originator of the "March to the Sea," and that he communicated his plan to General Halleck. This matter has long been in dispute, although those who have had access to the records of the War Department have known that the plan was General Grant's and not General Sherman's; but this is the first time that General Grant has himself in public declared the fact, though he privately communicated it to several when the controversy first arose. In the same way General Grant has declared that the campaign up the Cumberland and the Tennessee Rivers did not originate with General Halleck. The records clearly show these movements to have been planned by General Grant.

DEAF AND DUMB.

DELAVER, Wis. Jan. 7.—A delegation of Milwaukee senators and assemblymen were here to-day looking over the grounds of the State Deaf and Dumb Institute.
They were favorably impressed with this institution, and without doubt the building will be rebuilt on the old site.

IN LIQUIDATION.

DELAVER, Jan. 7.—After the close of business to-day the stockholders of the National Bank of Delaver voted the bank into voluntary liquidation, with cash on hand to pay all depositors on demand.
The stock will probably pay dollar for dollar. D. B. Barnes, cashier, desired to retire from the banking business, and a large portion of the stock being owned by non-residents prompted the move. On this day the officials for the manner in which they suspended business and Delaver regrets the loss of the National Bank. E. L. Lathrop & Co., succeeded to the business, an abundantly responsible firm. The individual members of the firm are E. Lathrop, T. L. Von Suesmich, and A. H. Kendrick.

WOLCOTT.

MADISON, Jan. 7.—General Bryant telegraphed Governor Smith to-day that it would not be necessary to order any military to attend the funeral of General Wolcott, he having expressed the wish to be buried without a military display. A guard of honor will be taken from the Sheridan Guards, and members of the Governor's staff will attend the funeral in citizens' clothing.

PERSONAL.

Oliver Logan is 51.
Ex-Marshall Bazaine is farming in Spain.
Secretary Thompson is equally great as smoker and joker.

Barley Campbell says he expects to make $30,000 out of his plays this season.
Francis Joseph gave Alfonso's bride 1,000,000 thalers out of his own private fortune.

Winslow, the famous foreign-patron of Boston, is publishing a newspaper at Buenos Ayres.

Cardinal McCloskey, of New York, wore $10,000 worth of vestments at high mass on Christmas day.

Secretary of War Ramsey has but one child, Mrs. Furness, who married the son of a celebrated United States theologist.

Vice President Wheeler has been badly injured, taking his family, leaving him no relatives nearer than cousin.

Claude Etienne, the inventor of many improvements in firearms, and after whom the "Mime rifle" is named, is dead.

John Flagg, of Troy, is 81 years old; yet at a long exhibition he jumped his horse over a fire-proof hurdle, beating all competitors.

Mrs. Nellie Grant Estlin was a minister of Queen Victoria, set in precious stones, a gift from the royal dame at their first meeting.

The widow of the late General Barry (the general was chief of artillery on the staff of General Sherman during the war) died at Buffalo last week.

Of Mr. Sibley, the wealthy citizen of Rochester, it is said that if he were to visit one of his farms every week it would require a year to go round.

Ex-Governor Seymour has in his study at Danville a splendid library, a distinctive feature of which is a collection of biographical of American Statesmen.

Alexander Stewart, the old New York mercantile man who died the other day, belonged to a firm which used to set aside $100,000 every year for charitable purposes.

Sir Edward Thornton, a Washington correspondent writes, does not grow old.
His hair and whiskers could not turn a shade whiter, nor his clear, rosy, English complexion be a whit improved.

The mother of the Prince Monaco, who died recently, was very old, and for some time before her death was unable to recognize her children. Her final hours were of only a few hours duration.

As riding in Carolina and Georgia.
From the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, Jan. 1.

Last night, a short, portly man stepped out upon the platform at the depot at Columbia and Augusta train stopped at Granville. He had evidently just finished supper, and between his firm set lips puffed a fragrant Havana. The statue was unmistakable, as framed in the doorway of Tom Scott's special car, and the crowd immediately closed in around General U.
S. Grant. Dozens pressed forward to shake him by the hand, hundreds of questions were asked, and the general was a busy man. He was asked to sign a copy of his memoirs, and he was asked to sign a copy of his memoirs, and he was asked

At Charleston a popular demonstration was given, and at Columbia the Mayor of the city and Chief Justice Willard—Governor Simpson being absent—boarded the train, and offered an informal banquet, which, however, was declined. Though reticent about politics, General Grant takes active interest in everything else. He evinced great interest in people and sections, inquiring at every station as to the products and yield of the fields, and expressing much satisfaction over the agricultural improvement in the South. He also frequently indulged in rally with his genial companions, and seemed in general good humor. He spoke pleasantly of Southern cities, remarking that he had been to Richmond two or three times since the war, and had visited Augusta once. He recognized the name of "Hamburg," as the high trustee of our de la point was cleared, and he was glad to see the Southern incident, and he was glad to see the Southern trio that he is a German or Russian. He is a spy, I swear by my soul.

The peasant, meanwhile, was eyeing the prisoner closely. Presently his dark eyes lighted up with the fire of hatred.

"Is Frances," (he is a Frenchman," exclaimed he, clapping his hands. And he stated that, having been in Madrid, a few weeks before, he had been put in a room situation to carry things to the French barrack; and said he, "I was near him an hour, and recollect him. When we caught him, I told my comrade, this is the French officer I delivered my message to.

This was correct. Castano probably discerned the true state of the case, but he was a generous foe. He proposed to let him pursue his journey, for Leckinski had insisted he was a Russian, and he could not be made to understand a word of French. But the moment he ventured a hint of that kind, a thousand threatening voices were raised against him, and he saw that obedience was impossible.

"But," said he, "will you then risk a quarrel with Russia, whose neutrality we are so anxiously seeking for?"

"No," said the officer, "but let us try this man."

Leckinski understood all, for he was acquainted with Spanish. He was removed and thrown into a room worthy to have been one of the dungeons of the inquisition in its worst days.

When the Spaniards took him prisoner had eaten nothing since the previous evening, and when his dungeon door was closed on him he had fasted for eighteen hours; no wonder, then, that with exhaustion, fatigue, anxiety, and the agony of his dreadful situation, the unhappy prisoner fell into a senseless slumber. His head rested on the wall, and he was left to realize, in his gloom, the full horror of his hopeless situation. He was brave, of course; but to die at eighteen—so suddenly! But youth and fatigue finally yielded to the approach of sleep, and he was soon buried in profound slumber.

He had slept perhaps two hours, when the door of his dungeon opened silently, and some one entered with cautious steps, blowing with his hand the light of a lamp; the visitor bent over the prisoner's couch, the head that shaded the lamp touched him on the shoulder, and a sweet and silvery voice, a woman's voice, asked him: "Do you want to die?"

The young Pole awakened suddenly by the glare of the lamp, by the tone and words of the female, rose up on his couch and, with his eyes only half opened, said, in German, "What do you want?"

"Give me something to eat at once," said Castano, when he heard the result of the first experiment, "and let him go. He is a Frenchman. How could he have been so far from himself? The thing is impossible."

But though Leckinski was supplied with food, he was detained a prisoner. The next morning he was taken to a spot where he could see the corpse of the Frenchman; who had been cruelly massacred by the peasantry of Tuxillo, and he was threatened with the same death.

But the noble youth had learned not to fail, and not a word, not an accent, nor a gesture or look betrayed him.

Leckinski, when taken back to the prison, handed it with joy; for twelve hours had nothing but gibbets and death, in its most horrid form, before his eyes, exhibited by him by men with the looks and phases of demons. He slept, however, after the harassing excitement of the day, and soundly too; when in the midst of his deep and death-like slumbers the door opened gently, and some one drew near his couch, and the same voice whispered in his ear:

"Arise and come with me. We wish to save your life. Your horse is ready."

And the brave youth, who had been awakened by the words, "We wish to save your life," answered still in German,

"What do you want?"

Castano, when he heard of this experiment and its result, said that the Russian

A WORD TO THOSE WHO USE POROUS PLASTERS. It is a universally acknowledged fact that

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under the name of Capcine or Capcino. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingre-diants which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. All genuine BEN-

BRIEFLETS.

—Spring bottom weather.
—Prayers at the churches to-night.
—The militiamen meet for drill to-night.

—The Henry case from Clinton is again set for argument to-morrow.

—Prof. Burton examines candidates for teaching, to-morrow morning at the Central building.

—Mrs. O. J. Dearborn is gaining in health and strength, and hopes soon to be fully recovered.

—The Russell assault case is to be argued to-morrow before Justice Prichard, the evidence being all in.

—The Craig case from Evansville is on trial before Justice Brooks to-day. The defendant is accused of mutilating tombstones.

—The Congregational prayer meeting will be held this evening in the church instead of Cannon's hall which is the usual place of meeting.

—There were no shows at the Opera house from the 11th of December till last Tuesday evening, and now they commence coming with a rush.

—E. P. Bliss, arrived home this afternoon and will remain a few days, and then take his departure for Europe, where he expects to spend a year or more.

—The remains of Mrs. Dr. Payne arrived this afternoon, and after the funeral services at the Congregational church were taken to Oakhill cemetery for interment.

—In the suit of the Janesville Guards against the Rock County Agricultural Society, the Guards have secured judgment for $100 and costs which will amount to $125 more.

—Lew Wyler, who is now connected with H. Riedelberg & Co., of Milwaukee, is at home for a few days. He has re-engaged with the firm for another year and will continue to sell vinegar on the road.

—Perry Niskern and H. A. Richards, of this city, and Burr Sprague, of Broadhead, have applied for admission to the Bar, and have been examined by a committee consisting of Attorneys Winans and Bennett. No report has yet been made.

—The front windows of McKee's big dry goods establishment have been graced by new curtains of pleasing design, and hung with spring rollers, and all the latest improvements, so that they are both useful and beautiful, and attract much attention.

—The entertainment to be given by Mrs. Noon next Monday evening, at Lappin's Music hall, promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the season. There will be choice music, recitations and character sketches, and a variety of attractive features, which will draw a crowd.

—A merry dance is to be given in Apollo hall after the entertainment. Remember Monday night.

—The Northwestern Christian Advocate of this week contains the announcement that Rev. Frank A. Pease, son of Rev. P. B. Pease, formerly of this city, was married on New Year's eve to Mrs. Cynthia M. Sprague, daughter of H. R. Sprague Esq., of Graveline. The newly married ones are to make their home at Sheboygan where Mr. Pease is pastor of the Methodist church.

—In the whirl of amusements none should forget the wrestling match at the Opera house next Saturday evening, between Prof. Lucien Marc, of Paris, and Moss Joseph, of Milwaukee, for $100 a side, best three in five falls. Those who have never seen a Greco-Roman wrestling match will of course want to see a genuine one, and those who have seen them before need no urging.

—George H. Osgood expects to start out next week in the employ of the Empire Cross Spring Company, and will make Minnesota the field of his operations. He is a stirring young man as well as straight forward, and with good goods to handle, will work up a big trade in his territory. The Company have acted wisely in securing him, and his host of friends here wish him the biggest kind of success.

—Mrs. Mattie A. Bridge is now the guest of Mrs. J. D. King, and is there, being called on by many of her old friends, and others of our citizens, who are glad of this opportunity of greeting her. Next Tuesday evening she is to deliver her new lecture on "Human Freedom" at Lippin's music hall, and there will doubtless be a large audience to hear her. This lecture has called forth much enthusiasm and many words of praise wherever delivered, and will gladly be listened to here.

—Sew on the buttons and make ready for short breaths and long laughs to-morrow night for Haverly's minstrels are to strike the town, and will show up at the Opera house. It's a wonder how Haverly can keep up so many companies and have them all good, but he does it, and the public may rest assured of having a treat to-morrow night. None who love mirth and minstrelsy should stay at home. The troupe is one of genuine colored minstrels, and composes as high ranking artists as can be gathered in one combination. Don't fail to step into Moseley's and check off your seat so as to be sure of it.

TRAVELERS, stop at the ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK.

THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

Last evening the annual meeting of the Congregational church was held. The Treasurer's report showed that there was a deficiency, the running expenses being slightly in excess of the receipts. The most of this deficiency was made up at once, about $200 being subscribed. The election of teachers to fill vacancies resulted in the choice of C. S. Bassett, Frank Gray, and Wm. H. Tallman.

ALL SOULS ANNUAL.

Last evening was held the annual gathering of the members and friends of All Souls church. The reports of the year were presented, and a liberal amount of money was raised to provide for certain needed expenditures. At the election of officers for the ensuing year Judge Amos P. Prichard was chosen President, and Mr. C. W. Kibbee, Secretary. A supper was spread, and the usual social enjoyment followed.

LIGHTING THE CITY.

What it has cost to Fight Darkness for the Past Year—A Model Gas Company.

The lighting of the streets is a theme in which everybody is interested who goes out after sunset, and in which every taxpayer also takes an interest, and the facts and figures of the record of 1879, are worthy of presentation and perusal. During the year just closed the amount of light has been larger and the amount of expense smaller, which is a happy way to grow.

The following figures show the expense of lighting the streets for 1879:

Gas for street lamps.....	$14,71 07
Lighting and extinguishing lamps.....	415 38
Washing lamps.....	15 00
Total.....	$15,181 45

Gas for engine houses and city offices..... 140 39
Total..... $15,321 84

The total number of lamps in the city was 118, and of these there were on the average 108 lighted, which makes the average cost of each of the 108, for gas, lighting and extinguishing, and keeping clean, $17.63.

The comparison with 1878 speaks well for all concerned. The total expense for gas for street lamps, lighting, extinguishing, etc., was in 1878, $19,941 33, and for engine houses and city offices $193, making a total of $21,134 33, or $89.61 more than in 1879. The proportionate decrease in expense is much greater, as there were many lamp-posts added the last year. In 1878 there were only 99, and of these only 96 were lighted. The average cost per lamp, for gas, lighting and extinguishing, etc., in 1878 was $20.22, or $2.59 more than the past year. Such a saving on each post is really worth noting.

It must be admitted that this reduction of expenses is due to the square manner with which the New Gas Light Company deals with the city. Besides voluntarily reducing the price, care has been taken as to the times of lighting, etc., and the whole has been well and economically managed. The Company seem to be content with a fair profit on the gas consumed only, and while the extinguishing, lighting, etc., is a part of the bill, yet no profit accrues from this, it being a cash outlay for which the city pays back the actual amount only, giving no profit for that part of the business. The same is true of the lamp-posts erected. The company puts them in as the Council directs, and charges the city the actual cost and no more. Few cities are thus favored, and the showing is one that will bear comparison with any in the land.

We would not seem fulsome, but we deem it no more than just to pay due credit to Mr. Hiram Merrill to the head and backbone of the company, for his happy management of the gas interests. It is so common now-a-days to pitch into gas companies, and to utter whines and complaints, that it is quite refreshing to find a city where there is no fancied or real grievance to whine over. We know that we express the opinion of the community generally in saying that the policy and workings of the gas company here, are highly pleasing, as the facts and figures show they must be.

CARING FOR THE COUNTY.

The January Meeting of the Board—How the Poor Have Been Cared for.

The County Board of Supervisors met yesterday afternoon, James Menzies presiding.

A resolution was presented by Mr. Foot, instructing the members of the legislature from this county to procure an amendment to section 1390, chapter 55 of the Revised Statutes, so that the section will clearly make wire fences legal and sufficient line fences. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Foot also introduced a resolution directing the Register of Deeds to make a tract index of the records of his office from the beginning of said records to the present time, and that he be paid therefor one and a half cents for each entry. On motion the resolution was laid over until this morning, and adjournment was taken until then.

At the meeting of the Board this morning sundry committees reported, and when the hour arrived for taking up the resolution introduced by Mr. Foot yesterday, it was, on his own motion, left to a committee to report on at the next meeting of the Board, the Chair appointing Messrs. Eldredge, Conly and Howard.

On motion of Mr. Nowlan it was decided to appropriate $55 to building a new juror box in the Court Room.

On motion of Mr. Eldredge the District Attorney was authorized to collect by action or otherwise all moneys received by E. P. King, Esq., as Justice and Police Justice of the city of Beloit, by way of fines and penalties which by law he should have paid into the county treasury.

The report of the Superintendent of the Poor showed that there were at the Poor House on the 31st day of December, 1879 sixty-one inmates. There had been received during the year 97, and three births had occurred, making the whole number 91. Of these, 2 had died, 32 had been discharged or absconded, leaving at the close of 1879, 57 inmates. Of these, 37 are males and 20 females. Thirteen are insane, ten males and three females. Three are children between the ages of 5 and 16, and two are infants. The cash expenses for the past year were $4,011, making an average per week for each inmate of $1 32. There had been allowed on account of temporary relief to indigent persons throughout the county, including physicians bills, burial expenses, etc., the sum of $4,052.90, making the total amount expended for the relief and support of the poor for the year 1879, $9,566.52 including $502.77 proceeds from the farm. The inventory of all property at the Rock County Poor Farm for the year footed up $12,336.57.

ANOTHER ELECTION.

Last evening the Endowment Bank of the Knights of Pythias elected the following officers:

P.—Horace McElroy.
V P.—E. D. Tallman.
S & T.—O. B. Crosby.
C.—Nicholas Smith.
G.—J. A. Sutherland.
Gd.—G. W. Jackman.
Sd.—H. F. Nothman.

HOW TO GO EAST.

Of all the railroad lines running Eastward the Michigan Central will ever be the favorite. There is no route by which so many points in Michigan can be reached so easily as by this, and as for going further east, one need not get out of the car from the time he gets in at Chicago until New York and Boston are reached. No changes, no bother, which is quite a consideration among those unused to travel, and among ladies who have no escort. Besides this, it is the only route by which passengers can obtain a full view of Niagara Falls from the car window. It is the only line running East which has the celebrated dining cars attached, which are built in the most elegant and convenient manner, in the Company's own shops. While rapidly rolling over the rails, one can thus coastly sit down to a first-class meal for which only six shillings is charged, and the bill of fare comprises an endless variety, almost equalling a banquet. Another feature of comfort is the Wagner drawing room sleeping car, new, elegant, clean, in fact just what is needed for a traveler. The double track of steel rails is a security against accident, and the bed of the road is now so solid, and the track so smooth that one can travel further with less weariness than on almost any road in the land. This road and its connections, with all its facilities for making the traveler comfortable, render it a pleasure instead of a task to take a trip to the East. The company is well officered, and the General Passenger Agent, Henry C. Wentworth, whose office is in Chicago, is a sterling, good man for the position, and any one desiring further information can obtain it readily by addressing him. He is a pleasant man to do business with, and is energetic, hardworking, and leaves nothing undone which will add to the comfort and convenience of the passengers, and the prosperity of the road with which he is connected. The Michigan Central is winning friends every day, and its popularity and patronage is rapidly and constantly on the increase, and it will continue to, as its advantages and attractions are so numerous.

FROM THE WEST.

Things from Some of the Wisconsin Folk Who Have Gone Thither.

To the Editors and Many Readers of the Janesville Gazette:

NORTH LOUP, Neb., Jan. 1, 1880.

Happy New Year to you all! Would you like to know how the farmers in the Loup county have prospered this year, those who came from Wisconsin, more particularly than the rest? The present season has been a very prosperous one, in many respects. Crops have been good all over the State, in some portions however, better than others. Wheat and oats have been poor in comparison with other years, but even this year's store is quite a surplus. Wheat averaged from 12 to 15 bushels to the acre, oats 30 to 40 and 50 cents were the very lowest figures that wheat was sold for here in the fall, with a steady advance in price and at the last quotations, $1.10 in Grand Island. Corn, that was planted on old ground is very fair; but owing to the dry hot winds in September, is not as heavy crop as otherwise would have been. Sod corn not quite as good.

We hear from Milton Junction and vicinity that it is reported there, and very generally believed that there is great want and destitution among some of our settlers here, that came from Wisconsin. I would ask the privilege of saying right here, that the report is utterly false—indeed, not one shadow of truth is in it. I am well acquainted with the parties in question and know of what I speak. There is no one here that "has to live on parched corn this winter, because they had to sell their wheat at 10 cents a bushel to pay debts." That has been very much misrepresented to say the least, and is only equalled by the rest of the report that they are all so homelike out there, and would "let back to the land." After living in Rock county for 20 years, and then coming to Nebraska, it does not follow that we can not become attached to, and proud of, the State of our adoption.

We have been having the steadiest cold weather for the last three weeks that has been experienced here since the settlement on the Loup. The thermometer was 29 and 30 degrees below zero the coldest days, which were the 23 and 24th of December.

Thos. O. Barker is now at work painting the new Mira Park school house, a neat frame building just completed, (except some mason work that is to be finished in the spring) This is his first attempt since leaving Milton Junction. We understand he contemplates working at his old trade the coming year, if his health will permit. Deacon T. P. Weed, W. A. Collins Wm. Green, Clark Cottrell, and others are now drawing wood from what is known as the cedar canyon, a distance of thirty or thirty-five miles, for fuel. There is quite a number of cases of diptheria on the Loup at present, and two deaths occurred, both children of T. McDowell, formerly of Dakota, Wis. Mr. Frank Barker's son is now sick with the same disease.

A PROMISED TREAT.

Rev. W. R. Alger, of Unity church, Chicago, has been secured to deliver a lecture in All Souls church next Wednesday evening. His subject will be "The Uses of Poetry in Refining and Enriching the Life of Man." Mr. Alger is widely known as an orator and author, and his name is already familiar to many [who have perused with pleasure his "History of the Future Life," "Friendship of Women," and other works.] His lecture will be one worth hearing, and will cause the church to be filled.

Sensible Canadian.

Mr. Gadbois, of Brockville, Canada, after being cured of a prostrating malarial disease contracted in Texas, by means of Warner's Safe Pills and Safe Bitters, writes to us: "I shall never travel in that climate without your Safe Pills and Safe Bitters as a part of my outfit."

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 41 degrees above zero; at 1 o'clock a. m. at 42 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 46 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 51 degrees above.

The indications to day are stationary or lower barometer, southeast to southwest winds, cloudy weather, occasional rain, stationary or slightly higher temperature.

A GENEROUS GIFT.

At the last meeting of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence & Benevolent Society it was voted to appropriate $250 to St. Patrick's Band to help them in paying for the new uniforms which they are now purchasing. This generous gift together with the cash on hand proves sufficient to pay the necessary expense. The Society and the Band have always had a very happy relationship, and this new and generous expression of friendship on the part of the Society will not soon be forgotten. The following card is self-explanatory:

In behalf of the Band, I desire to thank the members of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence & Benevolent Society for their very generous donation of $250 toward procuring the new uniforms.

J. THOROUGHGOOD, Teacher.

NOW
Is the WINTER

Of our discontent made glorious by a good warm Over-Coat, or an Under-Coat, or Vest, Pants, Underwear, Hosiery, and every thing that goes to keep a man warm and happy. I am selling goods just a little cheaper than ever, all owing to the weather.

If there is anything that will make an old man, or a young man, or a boy, want to see his mother, it is the desire to have good clothing. What is the use of going without it when you can buy it as cheap as you can at West Milwaukee St., two doors west of the Post Office.

P. S.—We will sell Overcoats at cost for the next 30 days.

TIME TRIED

FIRE TESTED!

The sound old Insurance Companies represented by

DIMOCK & HAYNER

have been literally tried by time and Tested by Fire. Having been through all the fearful conflagrations on this continent, and the great fires of England, they stand to-day stronger and have larger cash assets than ever before. Risks written in these strong old companies at best rates, and losses promptly and fairly adjusted and paid.
